Double-click on the icon or open this file using Stuffit Expander which is located on your hard-drive then proceed to step 2.

- CD-Rom version installation

Insert the CD-Rom in your computers's CD-Rom drive. Proceed to step 2.

Step 2

The following icon will appear on your desktop :

Double-click on it. A window will open containing the installer icon, a manuals icon and a read me icon. The user's manual is located in the Manuals folder.

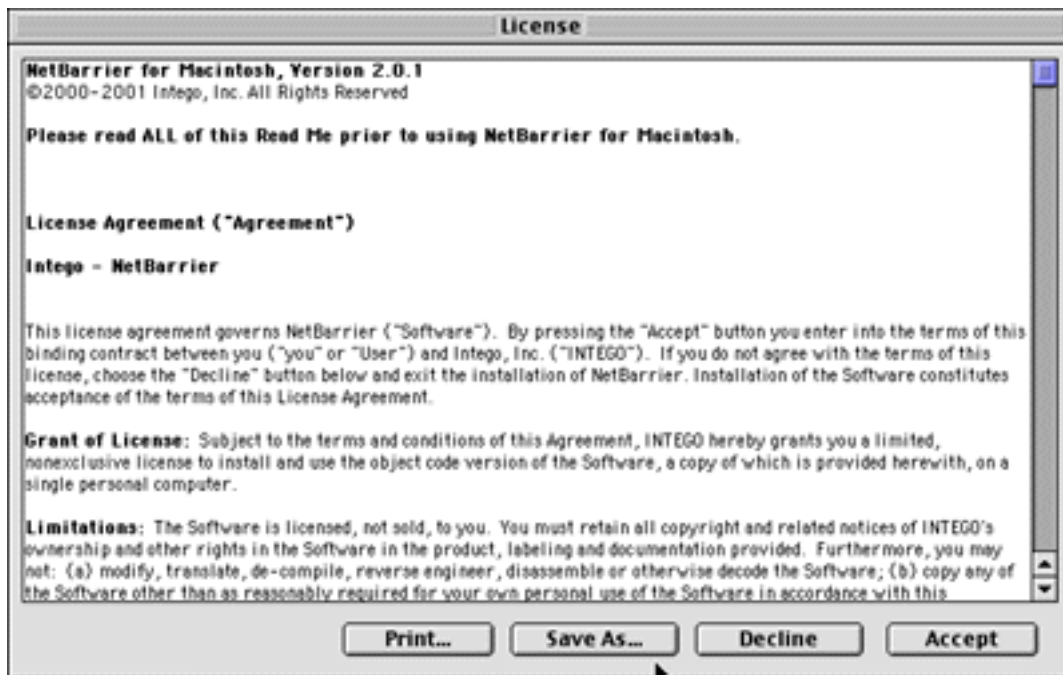

Double-click on the "NetBarrier installer" icon. The installation will begin.

When you see this NetBarrier 2 splash screen, click continue.

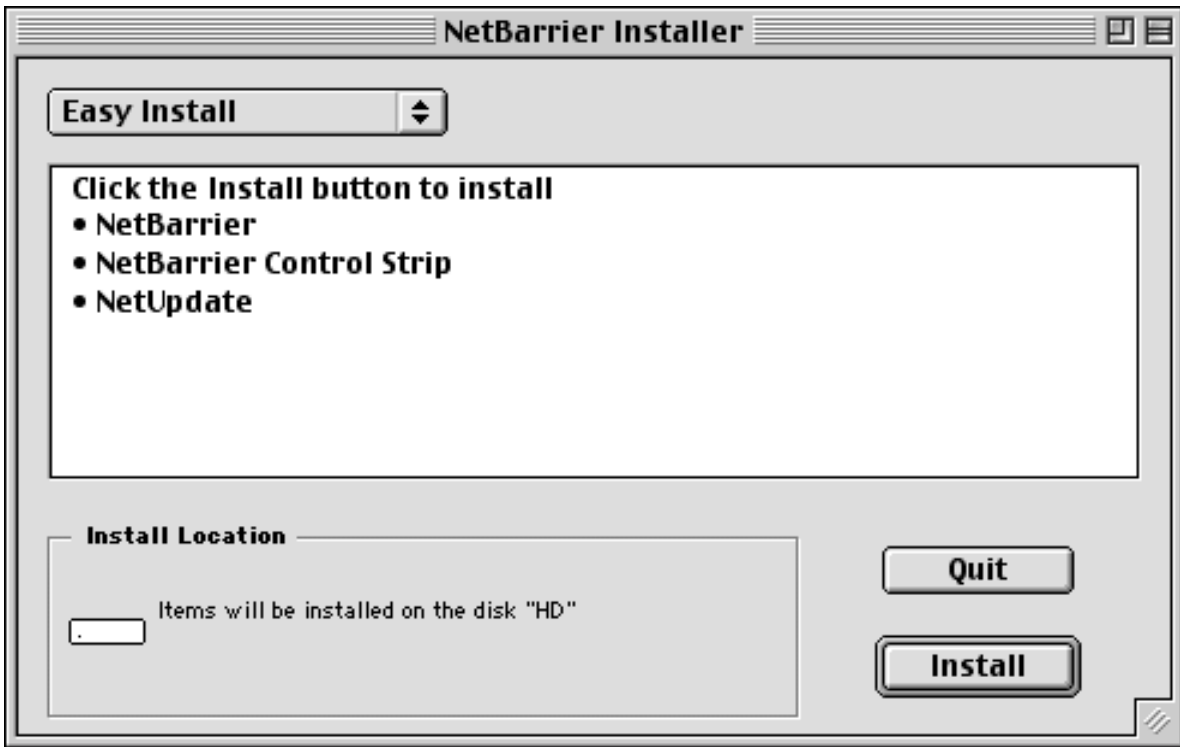

The NetBarrier license will appear. Read this license carefully. If you accept it, click on accept.

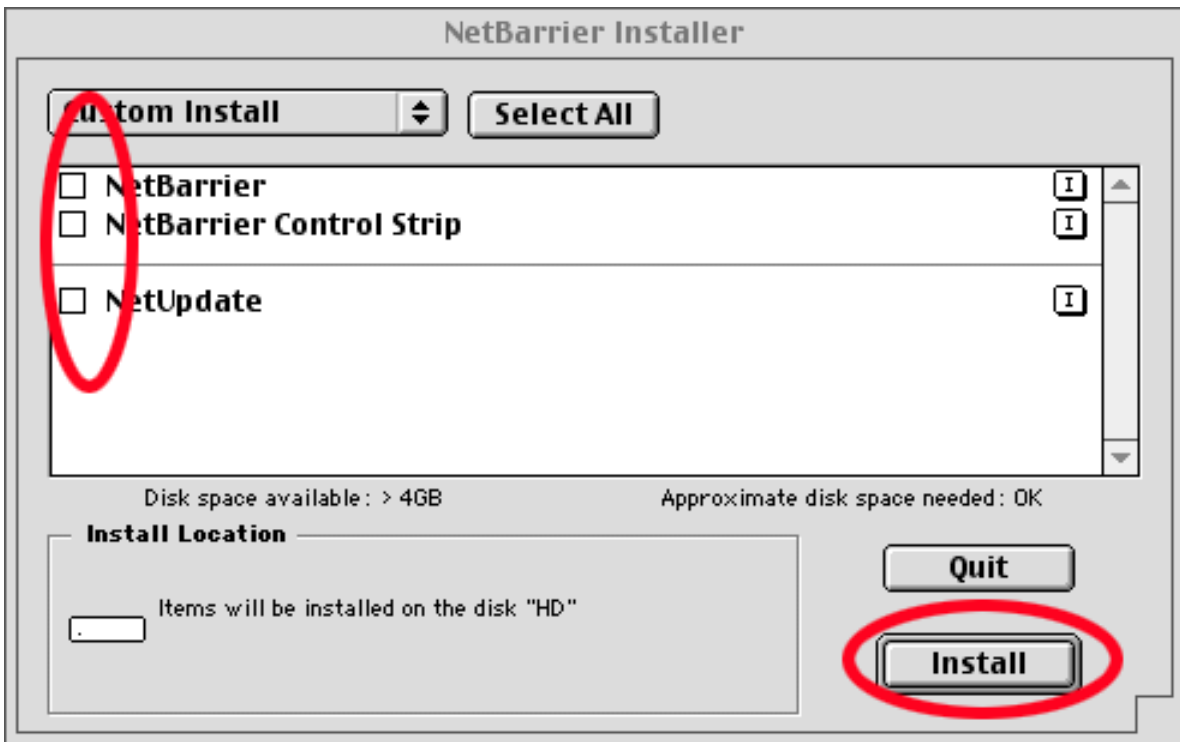

Two types of installation are available:

- Easy Install installs NetBarrier, the NetBarrier Control Strip and NetUpdate on your computer. Just click install.

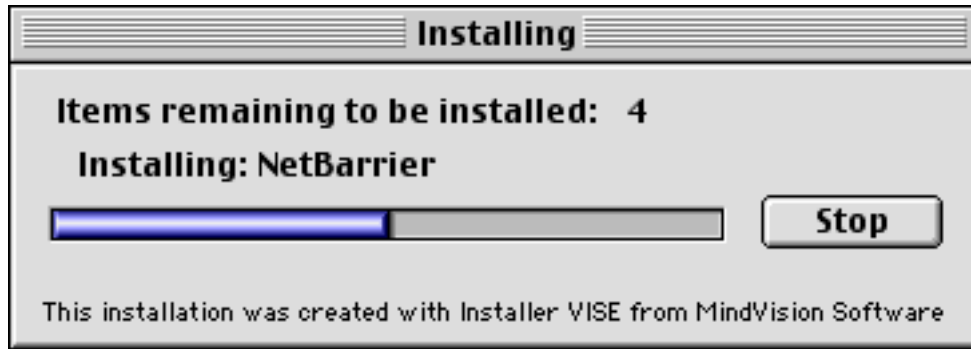

- Custom Install allows you to install either NetBarrier, the NetBarrier ControlStrip or NetUpdate or any combination thereof on your computer. Check the components you want to install, then click install.

During the installation process, a progress bar will be displayed

When the installation is finished, you will be asked to restart the computer in order to be able to use the new software.

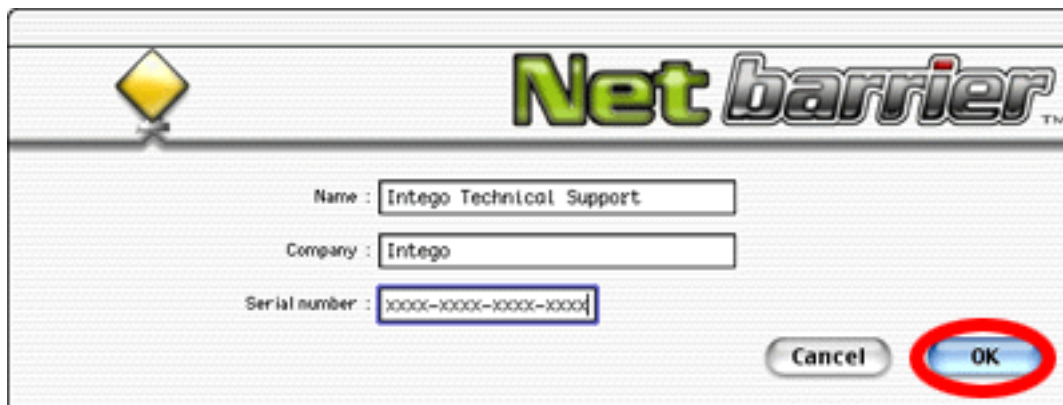

Once you have restarted and your desktop appears, you will see a registration window asking you for your NetBarrier 2 serial number.

This number can be found in your confirmation e-mail from Intego for downloaded software, or on the back of the CD jewel case for CD-ROM versions.

It is a 16-digit number separated by dashes and written as shown below.

You need to enter at least your name and your serial number to validate the serialization. When this information has been entered correctly, the OK button will become blue.

Click on the OK button. The NetBarrier window should appear and you can now use and configure NetBarrier.

2. How to upgrade to NetBarrier 2 with an upgrade from the web

If you have downloaded an upgrade from our website, proceed as follows:

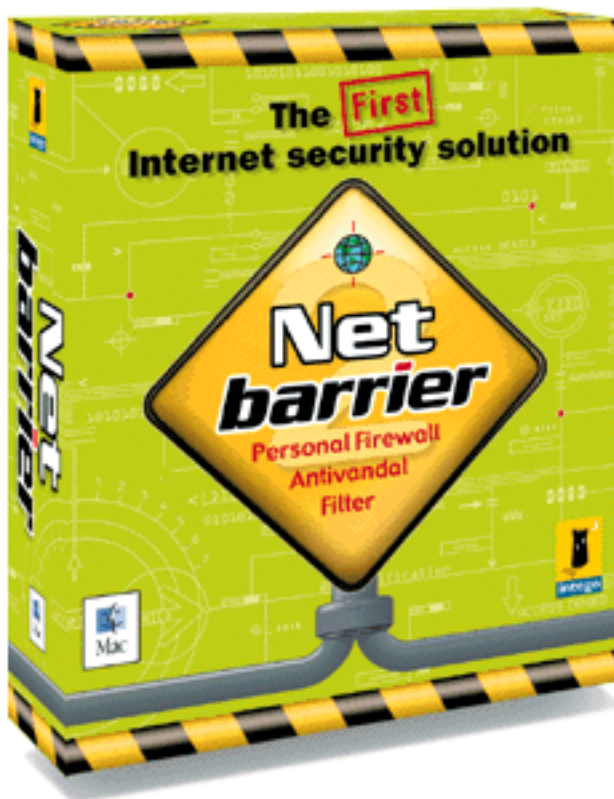

Before upgrading:

- your previous version must be installed and enabled in the extension manager,
- you must have your serial numbers from your installed version and your new upgrade handy. This number is located either on the CD jewel case or in the confirmation e-mail sent by Intego when you purchased the product.

If you don't have your serial number and you registered NetBarrier on our web site, contact our support team at support@intego.com

Once you have both your serial numbers, proceed as follows.

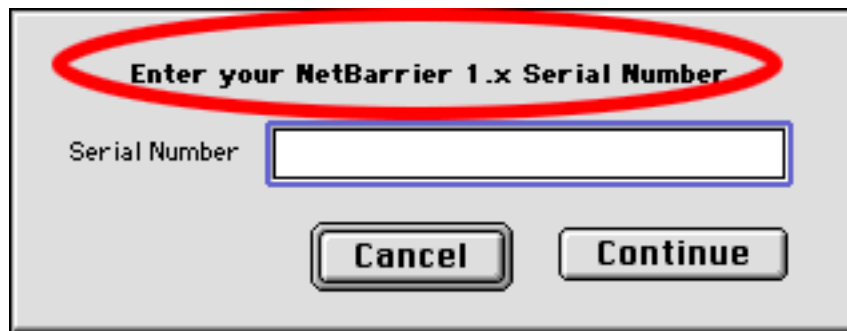

Open the NetBarrier upgrade archive and click on the NetBarrier Installer program. If you need instructions on how to expand the Stuffit archive, refer to page 4.

The upgrade splash screen will be displayed. Click continue.

The following window will appear asking you to enter the serial number from your previous or installed NetBarrier version (NetBarrier 1.x). Enter it using lowercase letters and separating each group of four characters by a hyphen (xxxx-xxxx-xxxx-xxxx).

If you have the e-mail containing your serial number, you can copy and paste the number directly into this window. All serial numbers from versions 1.0 to the latest 1.6 are recognized by this program.
