Do You Know Where Your Kids Are Going Online?

As a parent, you want to give your children enough freedom to explore the online world while making sure they're safe. The Internet can be a great resource for kids, but it's also full of inappropriate content and strangers. With so many dangerous back alleys just a click away, the idea of letting your child go online unsupervised can feel overwhelming and scary.

Intego ContentBarrier X9 includes anti-predator chat monitoring technology for all standard chat protocols, and ensures your children are not having an inappropriate conversation with a stranger. It watches for objectionable chat content and blocks inappropriate chats, and if desired, you can opt to receive email alerts whenever objectionable content is detected.

Provides a Safe Surfing Environment for Family Members

Use Intego ContentBarrier X9 to block out objectionable categories of Internet sites. You can also set up a specific list of websites that get parental approval so your kids can access them without accidentally running into a filter.

Creates Different Setting Configurations Per Account

Assign different profiles for your teenage son and your younger daughter and configure each one differently. That way your son can get online to do homework while your five-year old can print a coloring sheet.

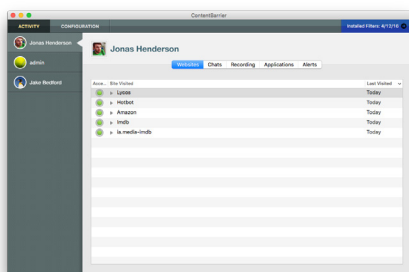

Sets Up Network Time of Day Access Restrictions

Restrict the time of day your children can access the network. Need to open up computer time so your kids can do their homework or shut off access because it's time for dinner? Settings can be easily reconfigured so you can adjust accordingly.

Includes a Web Admin Console Access

If you're not at home but your child needs to access a website for a school assignment, you can enable the site via a web browser so your son or daughter can successfully get online without you rushing home.

Records Screenshots and Keystrokes

Configure Intego ContentBarrier X9 to record keystrokes or take screenshots of active applications to make sure your kids haven't stumbled across content they shouldn't be looking at.

Monitors and Filters Chat Sessions

Intego ContentBarrier X9 monitors Internet chat sessions to make sure your child isn't having an inappropriate conversation with a stranger. If any objectionable terminology is used, the chat session can be shut down and you'll be notified.
